Earth signs -- December 2021 tarot reading Inverted six of pentacles, page of swords, inverted knight of cups

The message that I immediately get for you, earth sign, is solo travel. I feel like your spending needs to be addressed or budgeted so that you can put aside what is needed to save for a solo trip. This isn't one that is designed for friends or family or loved ones. You need this trip to balance your emotions. It doesn't need to be a long flight to somewhere exotic. It could be a weekend road trip to somewhere within a reasonable distance. That isn't the point. You need to pick a place that makes you happy or seems appealing, save money and go for a few days to reset yourself.

Emotional intelligence is another major keyword here. You need to take this time to rest and relax in order to get your feelings in check. The trip is to reset of course but it's also to give you time to sort your feelings. I would suggest bringing books and journals, art supplies, a sketchbook...whatever appeals to you and allows you to get your feelings down onto paper.

This next month might also be a good time or opportunity for you to learn a new skill or trade. If you are considering taking a class, going back to school, doing an online bootcamp for a new path, trying your hand at an art...this may be a chance for you. Keep your eyes and ears open for opportunity and don't forget that investing in yourself and your future is always a good investment.

Journal prompt

When I picture myself at my happiest, what am I doing? Where do I work? Who am I surrounded by? Where do I live? What does my most authentic self look like when I am calm, stable and at peace?
